FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 9/11/68

Brooklyn, New York

[redacted] Brooklyn, provided the following information on September 11, 1968:

[redacted] stated that he has known ANTHONY AUGELLO for approximately four and a half to five months. however that [redacted]

[redacted] stated that he is fearful for his life and for the wellbeing of his family and because of this fear has already moved his family out to Long Island where he feels they are safe. [redacted] indicated a willingness to be interviewed at length by the FBI at any time and said he would be willing to testify against AUGELLO if he could be of value in any case which would lead to AUGELLO's prosecution and the prosecution of other individuals involved with AUGELLO.

The interview was terminated because [] was in the process of being taken into protective custody by detectives from the Kings County District Attorney's Office, Brooklyn, New York.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 9/13/68

[redacted] Brooklyn, New York [redacted] provided the following information to Special Agent [redacted] on September 13, 1968:

[redacted] advised that on the day after Labor Day, September 3, 1968, ANTHONY AUGELLO came to him and talked with him [redacted]. At that time, AUGELLO asked [redacted] if he had any money. [redacted] replied in the affirmative, stating that he had over $100. AUGELLO asked to have the $100. [redacted] stated that AUGELLO had been coming into his store for approximately four and a half to five months and had always been well-dressed and it was his understanding that this would be a very short-term loan simply because AUGELLO happened to be short of cash on this specific occasion, so as a result, [redacted] gave $100 to AUGELLO on that date.

b6
b7C
b7D

[redacted] said that on Thursday, September 5, 1968, he saw AUGELLO for the first time since the above transaction took place and asked him for his money. AUGELLO's reply was "Forget about it, from now on you'll be paying me $250 per month. Now go get another $100". [redacted] replied that he did not have the money. AUGELLO threateningly said "go get it". Again [redacted] stated that he did not have the money. AUGELLO again replied "got get it or else I'll put a knife to your throat". [redacted] stated that during the first part of the above conversation an individual that he knows as [redacted] who is friendly with AUGELLO, was present.

b6
b7D

[redacted] stated that because of AUGELLO's threat he took $100 in cash from the store cash register and put it in a paper bag along with a soda to go, and handed it to AUGELLO in front of the counter of [redacted]. After AUGELLO got this money he later came back and said that he had a friend who was a television repairman who needed $300. AUGELLO made a show at approximately 1:30 a.m. in the morning on September 6, 1968, of calling this television repairman and telling him that he could get the money for him. [redacted] told

AUGELLO that he did not have the money and could not do it, and after being pressed on a couple of occasions by AUGELLO, was finally left alone and did not have to come up with the $300 for AUGELLO's friend.

[] stated that he did not see AUGELLO on Friday, Saturday or Sunday of that week, however, on Monday, he had already moved his wife out to the Island and had discussed the matter with her and around 10:00 called his wife, [] and told her to notify the Kings County District Attorney's Office.

On this Monday, AUGELLO and a man [] knew to be JULIUS BERNSTEIN came into [] on a couple of occasions, however, [] avoided them and nothing was said. However, a detective from the Kings County District Attorney's Office arrived after 11:00 p.m. and the detective and [] went into the basement of [] to discuss [] problem. [] stated that when he was through talking with the detective, he went back up behind the counter and learned that one of his waitresses, a [] who lives on Mc Donald Avenue between Church and Avenue C in Brooklyn, had told AUGELLO that he [] was talking with someone in the basement. [] stated that around 1:00 a.m. on September 10, 1968, AUGELLO and BERNSTEIN walked up to the Church Avenue outside counter of [] and AUGELLO said "What are you doing talking to the cops?" [] advised that he denied this. AUGELLO said "Cops and nobodys gonna help you". Again [] denied talking with the cops. AUGELLO kept ordering hot dogs and sodas and during this conversation ate approximately three or four hot dogs. AUGELLO told [] "I oughta cut your heart out for talking to the cops downstairs". [] stated that when he denied this after the threat, AUGELLO looked at BERNSTEIN and they both laughed.

[] stated that the next day the detectives took him to the District Attorney's Office and it was then determined that []

[redacted] gave the following account of the events of Tuesday evening, September 10, 1968. [redacted] stated that around midnight, AUGELLO, [redacted] and JULIUS BERNSTEIN were all sitting at one of the tables in [redacted] [redacted] went over to the table, sat down and had a conversation with AUGELLO in which he told AUGELLO that he just could not afford to pay $250 a month. AUGELLO's reply was to say "I oughta put your head through that cigarette machine for talking like that". [redacted] replied "I already gave you $200 and you're running up a tab here by eating sandwiches and cokes and not paying your bills". AUGELLO replied "you know I don't pay for anything, that's part of this thing", at which time AUGELLO took the tab for the evening which was over $9 and put it in his pocket.

b7D

[redacted] stated that after the above conversation he went in back of the counter, was called by the police who stated that [redacted] said that he still had $100 in marked money on him and at this time went to AUGELLO, who was standing near the counter and offered him the $100. AUGELLO said "no, I'll send in the kid". AUGELLO and the others then left and [redacted] advised a short time later that [redacted] came to the outdoor window and was given a paper sack with the $100 in it and a soda.

[redacted] stated that [redacted] at that time the police raided 65 Church Avenue.

[redacted] stated that at some time during his conversations with AUGELLO, AUGELLO had mentioned that the money [redacted] was paying would be useful if anyone ever decided to give [redacted] any trouble because AUGELLO would see to it that no one ever bothered [redacted]

[redacted] advised that he absolutely could not afford to pay AUGELLO or anyone else $250 a month because it would ruin his business. He stated that he has never borrowed money from AUGELLO or any of AUGELLO's friends and the only loan he has is one that he took a couple of years ago for a couple of thousand dollars which was strictly a personal loan from a friend which he is still paying off. [redacted] stated that he would be willing to testify against AUGELLO and any of the other people who are involved with him.

[redacted] ended by saying [redacted] receives deliveries of all his hamburger meat, his hot dogs, his hot dog buns and hamburger buns from Sabrett Food Products, Incorporated, 50 Colden Street, Jersey City, New Jersey. He said that he receives deliveries on an average of five or six times a week from Sabrett.

Arrest 4 in Extortion Try In Brooklyn

By JOSEPH P. COTTER

The Brooklyn District Attorney's office has arrested four men on charges they had threatened a Brooklyn hamburger shop owner with beatings unless he forked over $250 a month in "protection" money.

Acting District Attorney Golden said the victim had been told that if he sold the shop, he would have to turn over half the money to the four.

Charged with extortion in the case are Anthony (The Gawke) Auggello, 45, of Valley Stream, L.I.; Clement Caserta, 24, 1352 71st St., Brooklyn; Julius Bernstein, 46, 2718 Ocean Av., Brooklyn, and Jack Appleman, 53, 2820 Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn.

The DA's office said Caserta and Bernstein also faced weapons charges. Officials say two hand guns were found in each of their cars after the arrest at 1 a.m. this morning near a pattern-cutting plant owned by Appleman at 65 Church Av., Brooklyn.

Golden said the victim in the extortion plot, Saul Rosen, had been approached at the store, 73 Church Av., several weeks ago by Auggello.

Auggello told Rosen he would be beaten unless he paid $200, and followed that up with $250 in monthly payments, police said.

Rosen paid the $200 and then went to Golden's office. He was so scared, police said, that he sent his family out of town.

Police said the arrests were made this morning after Rosen had given Caserta $100 in marked bills supplied by the DA's office, which were then turned over to Auggello.

The DA's office said Bernstein and Appleman had been implicated in the case during the course of the investigation.

Bernstein told authorities he was a union official but the DA's office has not been able to determine the name of the union.

Golden said Auggello was reportedly acting as a frontman in the extortion setup for Mafia leader John (Sonny) Franzese, now serving a 50-year federal prison term for conspiring to rob banks.

Synopsis:

ANTHONY AUGELLO, [redacted], JULIUS BERNSTEIN and [redacted] were all arrested at 65 Church Avenue, Brooklyn, at 12:20 a.m., 9/11/68, by detectives from the Kings County DA's Office. All were charged with extortion of SOL ROSEN, who runs a hamburger stand at 73 Church Avenue, Brooklyn, and who was being forced to pay $250 per month protection money to AUGELLO, who threatened to kill ROSEN for notifying the police. Physical surveillance by FBI Agents of activities at 65 Church Avenue, Brooklyn, observed pertinent activities on the part of the subjects and victim on 9/9, 10 and 11/68. [redacted] interviewed and states that AUGELLO was shaking him down for money and threatened to kill him for notifying the police. He stated that [redacted] and BERNSTEIN were present during some of the threats and took marked money just prior to the arrest which was made by the Kings County DA's Office. [redacted] indicated a willingness to testify against all of the subjects. On 9/11/68, subjects appeared Brooklyn Criminal Court and were placed on $50,000 bond each which they all made on 9/12/68. On 9/11/68, the facts were discussed with Departmental Attorney [redacted], EDNY, who advised that if there was an interstate aspect to the case that it would appear to be a violation of the Hobbs Act and could be presented to a Federal Grand Jury on 9/ [redacted] 68.

DETAILS:

On September [redacted] 1968, [redacted] captioned case, appeared before a Federal Grand Jury, Eastern District of New York (EDNY) and provided them with the facts of the case. A True Bill was returned by the grand jury.

The following sealed indictment was filed on September 18, 1968, charging as follows:

NY 92-5253

"THE GRAND JURY CHARGES:

"COUNT ONE

"1. At all times hereafter mentioned Saul Rosen, a resident of the Eastern District of New York, was the owner of a business operating as Happy Burger, located at 73 Church Avenue, Brooklyn, within the Eastern District of New York, and in operation of said business the said Saul Rosen ordered, purchased and sold meats and meat products which moved in interstate commerce from various locations in the State of New Jersey, as well as from locations in other States of the United States, to the Eastern District of New York.

"2. From on or about the 1st day of September, 1968 and continuing thereafter up to the 11th day of September, 1968, both dates being approximate and inclusive, with the Eastern District of New York, the defendants, ANTHONY AUGELLO, [redacted] and JULIUS BERNSTEIN, and others to the Grand Jury unknown, wilfully and knowingly conspired to obstruct and affect commerce, as that term is defined in Section 1951, Title 18, United States Code, and the movement of meat and meat products referred to in paragraph 1 herein, by extortion, in that the said defendants would demand and obtain from the said Saul Rosen property, in the form of monies, in amounts of one hundred dollars ($100.00) to two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00) per month, with his consent, induced by the wrongful use of fear and threats to the person of Saul Rosen.

b7c

"In pursuance of said unlawful conspiracy and for the purpose of effectuating the objects thereof, the said defendants committed the following:

"OVERT ACTS

"1. On or about the 3rd day of September 1968, within the Eastern District of New York, the defendant, ANTHONY AUGELLO was in the vicinity of 73 Church Avenue, Brooklyn, New York.

"2. On or about the 11th day of September 1968, within the Eastern District of New York, the defendants, ANTHONY AUGELLO, [redacted] and JULIUS BERNSTEIN

NY 92-5253

On September 19, 1963, ANTHONY AUGELLO, JULIUS
BERNSTEIN and [] appeared before Judge JOSEPH
C. ZAVATTI and all pleaded not guilty. ZAVATTI strongly warned all three not to harm victim ROSEN or to in any way intimidate him either directly or indirectly.

AUGELLO, BERNSTEIN and [] were remanded to the custody of the United States Marshal in lieu of $10,000 bail for AUGELLO and [] and $5,000 for JULIUS BERNSTEIN. All three individuals, however, were later able to make their bail.

b6
b7c

On September 23, 1963, Departmental Attorney [] advised SA [] that a determination will be made at a later date concerning whether Federal or local authorities will prosecute the subjects first.

PRESS INQUIRY

New York, New York
September 19, 1968

Mr. JOHN F. MALONE, Assistant Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in charge of the New York Office, made known today the arrests of ANTHONY (The Gawk) AUGELLO, age 45, of 294 Hendrickson Avenue, Valley Stream, Long Island; JULIUS BERNSTEIN, age 46, of 2718 Ocean Avenue, Brooklyn, and CLEMENT CASERTA, age 24, of 1352 71st Street, Brooklyn, New York.

Mr. MALONE advised that the three men had been arrested on charges that they had threatened a Brooklyn shop owner with beatings unless he paid $250.00 a month in "protection" money. The three men were charged with violation of Title 18, United States Code, Sections 1951 and 2. Specifically, they are charged with conspiracy to obstruct interstate commerce by extortion which is a violation of the Hobbs Act.

They will be arraigned today before a United States Commissioner in the Eastern District of New York. If convicted, they could receive a maximum sentence of 20 years and/or a fine of $10,000.

around four thirty or five o'clock in the park next to the corner of 86th Street and 14th Avenue, Brooklyn, NY he was talking to a guy that he had only met on one previous occasion. The guy who he believes is called "WEENO" (possibly WINO) mentioned that [redacted]

[redacted] had offended
"one of the big boys" and was due to be "hit" sometime early the next morning. [redacted] stated that he had never been particularly close to [redacted] and that [redacted] had thrown him out of the [redacted] in the past, however said that he would never want to see anyone harmed and as a result pressed "WEENO" for more information so he could warn [redacted]. WEENO told [redacted] that [redacted] was going to be "hit" between 2:30 and 3:00 AM on 11/7/68 and that it was going to be done with a gasoline bomb.

For the information of the Bureau, 18 subpoenas were issued by the EDNY on 11/19/68 for [] in captioned matter. All subpoenas were returnable on 11/ []/68. The following are results of the interviews by Bureau agents on 11/19/68:

- 1) JACK MANOWITZ and [] were determined to be presently residing outside of New York State and leads have been set forth for their interview.
- 2) [] whereabouts is unknown and efforts are continuing to locate him.
- 3) [] and [] were determined by interviewing agents to be uninvolved with AUGELLO and were not called to testify before the grand jury.
- 4) The remaining 13 received subpoenas and only [] was cooperative concerning his association with AUGELLO. [] stated that he would not testify before the grand jury concerning AUGELLO but would be willing to provide the FBI with everything he knew about AUGELLO and would continue his association with AUGELLO if it could be helpful to the FBI.

The following is information which was provided by []

[] was interviewed at his business, [] [], Astoria, Long Island, New York, and he furnished the following information:

[] stated that he had met ANTHONY AUGELLO in approximately July or August, when his, ([]) partner, [] advised him that AUGELLO could lend them money for their business. [] stated that he and [] went to AUGELLO's home at which time AUGELLO advised him he would be happy to lend him $5,000 at two points ($100 per week interest) [] said that he had previously believed AUGELLO was a legitimate factor* but when he heard these rates he declined such a loan.

AUGELLO then went on to relate that he had numerous connections in the union field and perhaps could be of help to [] in this way. [] said that he had been considering the formation of a new union which would cover employees in dry cleaning establishments and, therefore, began to meet with AUGELLO and AUGELLO's associates in an effort to get a charter for such a union. [] said that things did not materialize too well in the formation of this union, however, AUGELLO and JULIUS BERNSTEIN were able to obtain a charter in the name of a former employee of [] but that the fees were never paid and presently the charter has been revoked.

b7C

[] said that during these discussions, he had many occasions to visit AUGELLO at [] store on Church Avenue and it became apparent to him that AUGELLO was a shylock lending [] money and that [] was supposedly a millionaire. [] said that there were usually guns lying about at the store and an almost constant stream of people coming and going although he never observed the money changing hands.

[] said that AUGELLO was presently hanging out at either Jaffe's Barber Shop or at a bar somewhere off Flatland Avenue in Carnarsie, Brooklyn.

[] said he was also furnishing the following telephone numbers in the event he wanted to contact BERNSTEIN or AUGELLO:

BERNSTEIN
AUGELLO

BU 2-5283
516-825-5615
CL 7-9828

Character: EXTORTIONATE CREDIT TRANSACTIONS

Synopsis: On 11/19/68 twelve [redacted] in captioned matter interviewed and given FGJ subpoenas returnable the [redacted] day in the EDNY. Only six persons admitted knowing the subject or his associates and none admitted taking any loans from him. [redacted] said that his father [redacted] was at one time indebted to AUGELLO for a shylock loan of an unknown amount. [redacted] was also indebted to other persons which resulted in his losing ownership of a business in Brooklyn, NY. [redacted] moved to Cleveland Ohio after his bankruptcy and his son [redacted] was approached by AUGELLO and [redacted] about $8,000 which was allegedly owed to AUGELLO by [redacted]. [redacted] paid $300 to AUGELLO on his father's debt but then pled poverty and was never again bothered for the money. Background on JACK MANOWITZ and [redacted] set forth.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 11/19/68

[redacted] Freeport, Long Island, New York, was interviewed at his place of employment, Sterlings Meat Market, 1665 Broadway, Brooklyn, New York, by SAS [redacted] and [redacted], who identified themselves to him as Special Agents (SAs) of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). He furnished the following information:

He stated that he has known TONY AUGELLO for approximately 4 years. He first met him at the Wander Inn Tavern, which was located on McDonald Avenue in Brooklyn. This tavern is now closed. He was introduced to AUGELLO by the bartender of this tavern, whom he knew only as "Gino" Last Name Unknown (LNU). He frequented this tavern regularly as did AUGELLO. He had thought that AUGELLO had some interest in the tavern.

When AUGELLO learned he was a butcher, he placed some meat orders with him, and also, when he was looking for a home in Long Island, AUGELLO suggested he look in his area. As a result of this conversation, he visited AUGELLO's house on one occasion, and looked in his area for a home but was unable to find one suitable to his financial status.

b7C

A few months ago, he mentioned to AUGELLO that he wanted to purchase a coat for his wife. AUGELLO referred him to an individual named [redacted] who had a coat place on Church Avenue in Brooklyn. He went to the coat place and purchased a coat from [redacted]. This took place approximately 5 months ago. He stated he returned to the coat place approximately 4 times with his wife for coat fittings.

He identified a photograph of [redacted] as the individual named [redacted] from whom he purchased his wife's coat.

He stated he never borrowed money from AUGELLO or [redacted] nor has he ever discussed anything concerning loans with these individuals. He pointed out he has a good credit rating and has never had to borrow money from a loan shark. He noted also that AUGELLO never mentioned to him that he ever made loans.

[redacted] was interviewed at his place of employment, [redacted] Brooklyn, New York, by Special Agents [redacted] and [redacted] on November 19, 1968 with the following results:

[redacted] identified a picture of ANTHONY AUGELLO as being an individual that he knew as "TONY WANDER" because of the fact that AUGELLO used to spend most of his time in the Wander Inn, which is located on Mc Donald Avenue near Kings Highway in Brooklyn. [redacted] stated that approximately three or three and half years ago when he and his brother, [redacted], were running a fruit market on Kings Highway in Brooklyn, New York, he had an occasion to go to the North American Bank and afterwards go across the street to the Wander Inn and their meet AUGELLO. During a conversation with AUGELLO in which they were discussing financial matters, [redacted] told AUGELLO that he was in need of $500 which AUGELLO agreed to give to [redacted] for ten per cent over a fifteen week period.

[redacted] advised that AUGELLO gave him the $500 and that he paid back AUGELLO weekly $50 in cash until the $550 debt was paid. [redacted] stated that he didn't meet each weekly payment and actually the loan stretched above over twenty weeks; however, AUGELLO never charged him any extra interest because of the missed payments.

[redacted] said that he paid back in cash "because those shy's never take checks". [redacted] stated that in his mind he surmised that TONY WANDER was a shylock but that no one ever told him that he was a shylock.

[redacted] identified a photograph of [redacted] as being an individual who has been in his store on one or two occasions and whom he has seen with AUGELLO on at least one occasion in the past. He could not be more specific as to when or where or under what circumstances he had observed [redacted] but felt sure that he had seen him at least once with AUGELLO. He had no knowledge of following information:

He stated he has never borrowed money from a loan shark nor does he know any of the following individuals by name and photograph: ANTHONY (TONY The Gawk) AUGELLO; JULIUS BERNSTEIN, [redacted]

He advised, however, that approximately three years ago his father, [redacted] borrowed money from an individual named [redacted]. He stated that he and his brother, [redacted] cosigned this note. He stated that his father never paid this note and approximately six months ago he began receiving summonses requiring him to appear in a court in Mineola in order to answer a complaint for failing to pay. [redacted] advised he never answered any of the summonses because they were not personally served on him but were left at the front door of his residence. He stated he contacted his attorney, [redacted] [redacted] Mineola, Long Island (phone number [redacted]) who finally settled the matter and [redacted] was required to make a payment of $875.00. He stated that the original amount that the summons called for was $3,000.00 or $4,000.00 but that they settled for $875.00 approximately six months ago. He advised that he has never been pressured or received threats or other acts of intimadation to pay this loan.

[redacted] advised that his father lives in Cleveland, Ohio, and that his address is unknown. He advised that as a result of his making good his father's loan, friction has arisen between

AT JOHNSTOWN, NEW YORK

On November 18, 1968, Deputy Sheriff [REDACTED], Fulton County Sheriff's Office, which covers Stratford,
New York, and Dolgeville, New York, advised that no record was located for [REDACTED].

AT GLOVERSVILLE, NEW YORK

On November 18, 1968, [REDACTED], Credit Bureau of Gloversville, which covers Stratford, New York, advised that [REDACTED] has been on file since July, 1958, and is cross referenced with [REDACTED] was shown as residing at [REDACTED] Stratford, New York, divorced from [REDACTED] and married to [REDACTED]. She was shown as being employed by the Daniel Green Slipper Company in Dolgeville, New York.

b6

b7D

The file showed that [REDACTED], filed bankruptcy proceedings on August 31, 1964, listing liabilities of $3,327.77. He was also shown as an employee of Daniel Green, Inc., in Dolgeville. There was one open collection account, October 4, 1968, in the amount of $7.62 and both [REDACTED] have five open loans at the United National Bank with a rating of slow to satisfactory.
There were no judgments recorded against them.

AT DOLGEVILLE, NEW YORK

On November 18, 1968, Chief of Police JAMES GROSS, Dolgeville, New York, Police Department, advised that no criminal record was located for [REDACTED];
Chief GROSS made a confidential inquiry of [REDACTED]

AL 179-17

2

[redacted] and determined that both [redacted] and [redacted] were currently employed and were driving a 1967 Mercury convertible, brown in color, with a white top, bearing New York license [redacted].

Chief GROSS checked Motor Vehicle Records at the Herkimer County Sheriff's Office regarding [redacted] and determined the following information:

New York plates [redacted] were issued on December 28, 1965, for a 1959 Chevrolet sedan, white in color. This plate was re-registered to a 1964 Chevrolet on February 2, 1966, and the same Chevrolet was re-registered on October 25, 1966. The plates were next issued to [redacted] who changed her name to [redacted] on February 3, 1967, for a 1967 Chevrolet four door sedan, color blue, on March 22, 1967. The plates were again issued on October 29, 1968, to [redacted] for a 1967 Mercury convertible, color brown. The files also show that New York license [redacted] was issued for the 1959 Chevrolet sedan, white, to [redacted] on April 8, 1966.

b6
b7C
b7D

On November 18, 1968, [redacted] were interviewed at Daniel Green Slipper Company and advised that [redacted] registered a 1959 white Chevrolet sedan on December 28, 1965, and received New York license plates [redacted]. In February, 1966, she purchased a 1964 Chevrolet and had the license plates transferred to this vehicle. The 1959 Chevrolet was then kept in storage until April, 1966, at which time she received New York license plates [redacted]. This car was sold during the summer of 1966 and the plates were turned in to [redacted], representative for Aetna Insurance Company in Dolgeville. Both [redacted] advised they did not know the subject.

On November 18, 1968, [redacted], Secretary, Harold Luther Insurance Agency, produced a receipt for the voluntary surrender of New York 1966 license plates [redacted].

AL 179-17

received through the mail from the DMV District Office in Utica, New York, reflecting that the plates were received at Utica, on May 23, 1966. These plates had been issued to a 1959 Chevrolet, sedan, white in color, VIN F59T159654, which vehicle had been sold on May 20, 1966.

On November 19, 1968, [redacted] Investigator, New York State Department of Motor Vehicles, Albany, New York, advised that he did not believe there was any possibility that 1966 New York plates [redacted] had been re-issued as they would have been destroyed at the Utica Motor Vehicle Office upon receipt. He advised the usual procedure is to have a junk dealer pick up the plates for destruction and an employee of the motor vehicle office stays with the dealer until the plates are pressed and destroyed.
